

Embroidered Patch Design: StarWars Scout Camporee

Seeing a design come to life in embroidery is a special treat for any creation. Combining that with Star Wars excitement makes for a popular patch design!

For Spring and Fall Camporee events, the event theme and patch can be an exciting feature of the event. The Council selected a Star Wars theme for the event and asked for concepts around positive catch phrases and visual imagery.

For visuals, it seemed that the design of the Jedi Order crest or logo could match well with the symbol of Scouting, the Fleur-des-lis.

Initial work began with brainstorming for phrases such as "Return of the Scout" play on "Return of the Jedi" as well as "The Scout Awakens" from "The Force Awakens". As this would be a first return to camping in large groups after Covid and quarantine, this was to be a special celebration.

A second concept which I thought would do well was declined because of the representation of the Covid virus and Death Star visualization. I agreed with this choice as the next design was a winner.

The next step was to confirm the number of colors for embroidery production and to create the variation of thread color changes for a Staff alternate version.

The last step was file preparation to provide the most ready-to-use artwork file possible for the patch embroidery company.

Preparation for an EPS file for embroidery included Creating Outlines for all type lettering, reducing the shape complexity to create solid shapes for elements such as the Mandalorian figure consolidating to one shape, clearing the overlap and hidden/masked shapes from the background area, and simplifying the linework for the outline edges.
